Open Position: AI Developer(s)

AWAAIT is an Artificial Intelligence startup with an expanding portfolio of international projects and clients. We value diversity, contrasting personalities, work-life balance, meritocracy, and fulfilling jobs. We respect and recognize the contributions of each member.

Our growing inflow of challenges requires creative problem-solving skills. We are now looking for new talent to work full-time and on a permanent basis in our Barcelona headquarters.

AWAAIT is looking for new talent to join its core team of AI developers: we are searching for people from all backgrounds who can contribute their unique perspectives to our solutions.

As a member of our development team, you will work with neural networks, a relatively new and thriving technology that is rapidly improving while delivering novel answers to a wide range of unsolved problems.

If you enjoy problem-solving while learning about new technologies, this is your chance.

Basic Tasks and Responsibilities:
- Development of problem-solving programs using artificial intelligence techniques (mainly neural networks)
- Management of neural network training: dataset management, training monitoring, hyperparameter optimization

Extended Tasks and Responsibilities (depending on the profile and availability of the candidate):
- Creation of new solutions to expand the company's product portfolio
- Manage projects from conception to completion (or 'from the design phase to production')

Must-have Skills and Experience:
- Git
- Python
- Linux

Nice to have Skills and Experience:
- Keras
- OpenCV
- Tensorflow/PyTorch
- Statistics background
- Artificial Neural Networks knowledge

Other skills
- Working level of English
- Assertiveness and ability to work effectively with little supervision
- Experience in R&D

Candidates who demonstrate the necessary skills, experience, motivation, and commitment to carry out the responsibilities described above will be retained, regardless of formal education level, ethnicity, national origin, gender, physical or mental disability or age.

What we offer
- Incorporation in Sep/Oct 2022 as a member of a vibrant, innovative, and close-knit team
- Offices with natural light and good city views on Diagonal, near Francesc Macià Square (Barcelona)
- A flexible schedule and the ability to combine office and remote work
- Competitive salary, according to skills and experience
- Participate in the scale-up phase of a leading artificial intelligence startup
